Pasta Manufacturing Process

Mixing and kneading: The first step in the process is mixing. The semolina is stored in giant silos that has a holding capacity of about 68,100 kgs. The Flour is moved to the mixing machine through pipes. Warm water is also piped to the same mixing machine to knead the mixture.

Flavouring and coloring: If the product is an egg noodle then the eggs are added to the mixture. Vegetable juices, herbs and spices are added to the pasta if a flavoured variety has to be produced.

Rolling: The final mixture is moved to the laminator where it is pressed into sheets by large cylinders. The dough is flattened by a vacuum mixing machine while pressing air bubbles and excess water from the dough to arrive at the optimum water content of 12%.

Pasteurization: The dough roll is then moved through a steamer that heats it to 104°C (220°) to make sure that it is free from bacteria.

Cutting: The dough is given the shape according to the type of pasta that has to be produced. The pasta and macaroni manufacturers in India use different machines for producing different shapes of pasta.

Drying: After cutting the next step in the process is drying. The pasta is placed in the drying tank where the moisture, heat and drying time are strictly regulated.

Packaging: The dried pasta is folded in pre-measured amounts and filled into plastic containers. These containers are passed through a conveyer belt where these containers are sealed with a hot press. During the process, a small tube sucks the air of the container and replaces it with a mixture of nitrogen and carbon-di-oxide to increase the shelf life of the product.

- The report provides forecasts of key parameters which helps to anticipate the industry performance and make sound business decisions

Our Approach:

- Our research reports broadly cover Indian markets, present analysis, outlook and forecast for a period of five years.
- The market forecasts are developed on the basis of secondary research and are cross-validated through interactions with the industry players
- We use reliable sources of information and databases. And information from such sources is processed by us and included in the report

Scope of the Report

The report titled “Market Survey cum Detailed Techno Economic Feasibility Report on Pasta and Macaroni.” provides an insight into Pasta and Macaroni market in India with focus on uses and applications, Manufacturing Process, Process Flow Sheets, Plant Layout and Project Financials of Pasta and Macaroni project. The report assesses the market sizing and growth of the Indian Pasta and Macaroni Industry. While expanding a current business or while venturing into new business, entrepreneurs are often faced with the dilemma of zeroing in on a suitable product/line. And before diversifying/venturing into any product, they wish to study the following aspects of the identified product:

- Good Present/Future Demand
- Export-Import Market Potential
- Raw Material & Manpower Availability
- Project Costs and Payback Period

We at NPCS, through our reliable expertise in the project consultancy and market research field, have demystified the situation by putting forward the emerging business opportunity in the Pasta and Macaroni sector in India along with its business prospects. Through this report we have identified Pasta and Macaroni project as a lucrative investment avenue.
