Introduction

Honeycomb is a lightweight, rugged protective packaging material. It will efficiently replace denser materials such as wood and plastic allowing for dramatic direct and indirect cost reductions. Not only will our honeycomb help you lower your cost of packaging (material and labor), but it will also assist you in shipping lighter loads hence saving on freight cost. Being a paper-based product, our honeycomb is easy to dispose of which provides recycling cost-savings.

Honeycomb Products is dedicated to providing the most environmentally friendly products for the shipping and packaging industry.

As a product made from recycled paper and eco-friendly glue, it is a boon to the earth as a 100% biodegradable, non polluting, eco-friendly material. Large scale usage of paper honeycomb can drastically boost a country's aim of preserving the nature.

Paper honeycomb can also be used for packaging purpose as they are very efficient and flexible to use. Honeycomb packing keeps the goods secure at the time of transportation. Usage of honeycomb packing is highly advantageous than plastic, material as it could be reprocessed. Honeycomb packing keeps the product protected of rapid occurrences of water flows and firing.

The global honeycomb paperboard packaging market to grow at a CAGR of 5.59% during the period 2016-2020.

Paper packaging industry, many products, mainly corrugated paper honeycomb paper and bump into three categories, derived from these three categories of paper packaging and include cardboard boxes, cartons, paper bags, paper cans, pulp molding, etc. Paper honeycomb pallets are solid yet lightweight, vermin-free, single-use pallets made from 100% recycled and environmental-friendly packaging paper.

The main use of honeycomb is in structural applications. This is because honeycomb sandwich panels are extremely efficient in stiffness-to-weight and strength-to-weight situations. Whenever light weight is a premium honeycomb sandwich construction is very difficult to beat. The use of honeycomb core structure finds application in the following areas :

- Aircraft
- Aerospace
- Transportation
- Building construction
- Sporting equipment

With increasing trends to tighter tolerances and process optimization, the issue of moisture absorption by Honeycomb paper and the effect on its properties needs to be explained. Dimensional changes of Honeycomb paper due to moisture content are relatively small compared to other paper structures. Compared to film structures, however, these changes are significant and need to be taken into consideration at both the design and manufacturing stages.

Corrugated fiberboard has more than 100 years of history and features the advantages of low cost, light weight, ease of processing, high strength, and suitability for printing. Apart from meeting the demand for environmental protection by using corrugated fiberboard materials, the works on show at the exhibition also accommodated trends in the furniture design world, using bonding techniques or latch principles. As a whole it is a good project for new entrepreneurs to invest.

The Industry Trends:

- High efficiency and eco-friendly options in every sector. Paper honeycomb compliments the trend in each of its applications.
- Acceptance and usage of light weight and eco-friendly materials for the construction and packaging industry is gaining momentum.
- Protecting the environment by using biodegradable composite materials such as paper honeycomb is on high priority.

The global honeycomb paper market is expanding at the lucrative rate in the coming years. Honeycomb paper is the building and packing material. They are majorly used in common doors inside houses. It is made up of a layer of fiberglass, and the layer of honeycomb followed by another sheet of fiberglass. This paper is stronger than steel when compared pound for pound.
